WEYMOUTH GAZETTE, CITIZEN, AND EAST WEYMOUTH NEWS

Published every Friday by the Weymouth & Braintree Publishing Co. P. O. ADDRESS, WEYMOUTH, MASS.

TERMS: $5.00 per year. Advertisements inserted at the usual rates.

Managers and Editors: A. W. BLANCHARD, M. E. HAWES.

Correspondence and items of news are solicited from all readers of the Gazette. Every one knows of some interesting facts or happenings that others would like to read about.

Friday, November 17, 1933.

Of the 22,000 people who witnessed the World's Fair only one was arrested for drunkenness.

Has the administration become enamored of Queen Elizabeth? Is it the business of the country to go about setting up fallen thrones?

Rev. Mr. Huckle's biography of Joshua Bates, the first installment of which appears in this paper, will be of marked interest to Weymouth residents, as the subject of the book was a Weymouth boy.

The rumors in regard to the trains to be taken off and the discontinuance of the Braintree branch, are disquieting to the patrons of the railroad.

What Now?

We reprint an editorial that appeared in this paper in the issue following the election of last year.

It is to be feared that, encouraged by present successes, the Republican party will become more and more extreme in the subject of protection, free trading that this election was but a warning to the democrats that they must not enact "free trade" or embarrass our industries by any very near approach to it.

It is not to be admitted, even if the pendulum should again swing republican and should place that party in control of congress, that such a result would be a warrant for still further and higher protective legislation. We feel sure that in such cases the independent vote which now controls every election in our country is the republican standard in the following election.

While the leaders of the two great parties are crying, the one "free trade" and the other "extreme protection," the people, balancing between the two, want neither.

They desire just a middle way, a middle ground, a middle line, a middle place, a middle position, a middle point, a middle line, a middle place, a middle position, a middle point.

How to Preserve Harmony.

It is well known that many of the so-called "extreme" protectionists are in fact, not so much as they seem.

To Repair the Track.

The track committee of the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society is to be congratulated for the work they have done.

A Noble Object.

Rev. Mr. Palmer, a former pastor, will give a lecture on Hawaii, and the Sandwich Islands, on Friday evening, Nov. 24.

Extension Asked.

The Quabbin Park Street Railway Co. has asked the city council to extend its franchise to the Braintree line.

That the pendulum has just swung the other way is no sign that the verdict of 1932 is reversed. We construe it to indicate a very general fear that the democrats will go too far in revising the tariff and will not give due consideration to our northern industries.

Institute Reorganize.

The Institute Ball club met at Institute hall last Saturday night to reorganize for 1934. The treasurer reported a balance of $24 on hand and all bills paid.

Indigestion, Loss of Appetite.

Good General Health Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When I find a good general health and the feeling that I know from personal experience that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best.

Hood's Cures.

I have for a good many years been seriously troubled with indigestion and loss of appetite.

Hood's Cures.

Found great relief, and now eat without having that terrible distress. I now rest well at night and am in good general health.

FOR LOVE'S SAKE.

It is the first time today that Tom Kendall has had an opportunity of talking to Ethel Van Zandt since the yacht sailed.

"I have formed a plan," he says, "that will cause your mother to consent to our marriage and settle Lord Penzance's claims forever. You must fall over the rail into the water."

"Tom!" she gasped, staring at him with wide eyes.

"Yes, wait. You must fall into the water, you see, and then I will jump over and save your life. It will be easy. As soon as you fall I will be overboard too. I do not need to trust myself to me. There is really no danger, because I can swim well and can walk. It is the only way, dear, believe me. You are not afraid?"

"The considered a little."

"I see, Tom. You think making me fall is all that I have brought back to life that she will will to have our way."

"Yes, that is just it," he nodded.

"But, Tom," she protested, "suppose mamma will not let it?"

"She will, she will," he asserted confidently.

"Something of his own daring spirit infected her. The spite of danger, her full confidence in his ability, her long love, the thought of the money, the thought of the yacht, but entered heart and soul into the wild scheme."

"How am I to know when to fall?"

"You must find your opportunity. I shall be near you near you all the remainder of the day, but do not notice me. I shall be near you near you all the remainder of the day, but do not notice me."

"I shall be near you near you all the remainder of the day, but do not notice me."

"I shall be near you near you all the remainder of the day, but do not notice me."

DEHAM COURT AND COUNTY

DEHAM, MASS., Nov. 16, 1933.—Judge White held a probate court session at Quincy today, and among the matters of business transacted was the following:—

—Don't miss the Boston Ideals tonight.
Institute Course, Superior. Good seats for sale at door, 25 and 50 cents.

—On last Sunday evening the meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. was continued and a union meeting, between Unit society and the church was held in the vestry of the Union church.

—Among one of the prize winners at the late chrysanthemum show in Horticultural hall, Boston, was that of Hollis' seedling,
"Mutual Friend." Mr. Hollis has an immense lot of these plants for sale. He has it in a pretty sight to give away. He has cut over 1000 of these beautiful flowers for Boston markets this week.

—A large number of the neighbors and friends of F. Wilbur Lund tendered him a surprise party at his residence on Union street last Friday evening. During the evening Mr. Lund was presented with a purse of $50.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Boys' Brigade was omitted last Wednesday evening.

—Rev. J. V. Clancy is busily engaged in preparing a new church register.

—Next Sunday morning during the session of the Unitarian Society, a special collection will be taken for the City Missionary association for use in furnishing the vestry room of the city with Thanksgiving dinner.

—The lecture to have been given by John Dewey at the Opera house next Tuesday evening has been postponed to Thursday evening.

—The Boston Post of last Saturday contained a likeness of H. A. Thomas. The picture which was sent to the paper was the work of a very able artist. The picture was sent to the paper by the inscription on the cut.

—The Y. P. S. C. E. connected with the Union church, at a recent meeting, chose a delegate to attend the Unitarian Society Christian Endeavor societies held in Boston, and the delegates chosen were Harry W. Lund, the delegate chosen, left on the early train Tuesday morning and will be in Boston for the purpose of very pleasant as well as an instructive trip.

—The foot ball team of the High School played last Saturday afternoon on the base ball field. The team played a victorious game by a score of 20 to 8. Quite a large number of spectators were present.
The game was very interesting, and the team before the end became very enthusiastic. The Abington boys were tried in the game and in the home of the team. The game was a very pleasant one and the subject is "An evening with Dickens."

—The many greenhouses of Hollis, Randolph and Columbian streets are at present in a very prosperous condition.
Charles T. Foster has just completed an addition to his house and has put in a new water heater.

—Clipp and Newton Hollis contain some fine specimens of chrysanthemums. The house of G. L. Foster, Hollis, contains a fine lot of plants. A visit to any of the houses would amply reward the visitor for their trouble.

appeared an article in regard to a petition being sent out by the residents of Weymouth asking for police protection and stating that the petition was rejected by the selectmen. We were misinformed and would say that the petition was granted and Officer Bailey has been placed on duty in that section.

—Orion Commandery, U. O. G. W. C. will have an official visit to Mrs. Reed, G. W.
I. G. of Campbell next Tuesday evening.

—On Friday evening Dec. 1st, Orion Commandery will unite with seven other commanderies in a grand mass meeting to be held in Brockton for the purpose of organizing a new commandery.

—The members of Lodge No. 645 are requested to meet at the lodge room on Sunday evening, Nov. 22nd, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. The meeting will be held at 6:45.

annual visit to the home of his wife, Mrs.
Fogg, at Weymouth, on Friday evening.

—Last Monday evening was the occasion of a very pleasant party of a few friends of Mrs. Freeman Littlefield at her residence. The evening was spent in social and musical entertainment. The table was most beautifully supplied with refreshments. The party was very enjoyable and was a great success.

Helen F. Bass tendered her a surprise party at her residence on Pleasant street, last evening. The evening was spent in playing whist and other games. Refreshments were served and the party was a great success. The evening was a good time was enjoyed. She was presented with a pretty lace bracelet.

—The meetings that have been held at the Old South church have continued profitably and heartily. Last Sunday evening, Rev. E. R. Porter of Bridgewater Wednesday evening. There was a general church rally and conference meeting conducted by Rev. W. H. Butler will precede this evening. The meetings will be continued four evenings beginning Tuesday. On Wednesday the Old South church extends a general invitation to all who are interested in the cause of the poor and who

—The road near the depot was left in a very bad condition last Sunday night by the electric road builders. It was dark and it was with difficulty that it was gotten out without doing some damage.

—There are many rumors about that the N. Y. S. H. & L. C. Co. are to make some changes in the Tuxedo suit. It is wondered whether some trains will be taken and the time of others to be changed. The service at stands at present is none the less good, and what will it be with less trains?
—Mrs. Elmer Hewitt is very sick with congestion of the lungs.

—While the work on the electric road was being pushed in the Union street and the electric road, the Union street work has been going on between a Columbian completed, and services will be resumed in the vestry hall next Sunday. The repairs were very attractive and much more convenient than before the repairs were made. The vestry hall has been altered and enlarged, giving much more room for lectures and entertainments as well as for the use of the school room. The new entrance room has been painted, frescoed and re-carpeted and reflects much credit on the taste of the committee under whose management the repairs have been made.

Correspondents and Writers: News is solicited from all readers of the Gazette. Every one knows of some happening fact or happening that others would like to read about.

There will be an efficient corps of regular correspondents, there is of interest that the nature of things, they cannot get. Let your interest in your local paper and in the town you live in lead you to make the Gazette more bright and new.

Friday, November 24, 1893.

The changes in the time table that went into effect Monday, proved to be of no detriment to this section. Indeed the present schedule is, we think, an improvement and the best we have had in the history of the service of the South Shore that was intended, was not made, and that, we instead, have been benefited by some changes in the schedule, and the influence and kind interest of Superintendent Bannan who was appealed to by some of our residents.

The question of town division is up once more and this time is introduced by Ward 1, at which place a large meeting was held Wednesday night to discuss the matter.

There are many large and important interests at stake in this dividing and distributing any municipality, especially so in this town in the case of Weymouth.

There are properties which have been held in common and which should be carefully considered before being involved in dispute, and there are localities which are entitled to fair consideration and which may be a matter of the present world.

The matter should be discussed carefully by the whole town, and it is a division that is productive of good to its several parts, the sooner it is brought about, and this subject, which has been before the town, at different times for two hundred years, settled, the better it will be for its parts, and for every citizen and property holder.

Thanksgiving.

The proclamations of the President of the United States and of the Governor of this Commonwealth call for the observance of next Thursday as a day of public thanksgiving and praise. It is a day when the people of the land are gathered in and from their homes and stores and are filled with the result of the harvest of the year.

A year ago we could say that we had enjoyed a season of unusual prosperity, our mechanical industries as well as in farming. Today we cannot say the same; there is much to be grateful for; harvest have been good, but the season has been plenty and cheap, and no general epidemic has pervaded the land, and while there are unusual numbers of men who are working on short time or are entirely out of work, the situation might be much worse.

We look for a marked improvement in business soon after January 1, or as soon as the tariff question is disposed of, with a general boom in manufacturing industries, the market being good, and the fact that there being very light stocks of nearly all lines of goods.

The Old House of Weymouth.

We will offer prices of $10, $10 and $5 for the three best articles upon old or noted houses of the town, with historical reminiscences of their occupants and other interesting matters in connection with them. No one article may deal with but one house, but the same person may write as many articles as he chooses.

No more than two should write about the same house and no article may be related without trouble it will be necessary for each one intending to compete to send us his name, stating the house he wishes to write up. If more than two select one house, we shall notify all but the first two that that house is sufficiently covered and ask them to try another.

We are confident that there are a dozen or more houses in the town about which most interesting articles may be written. We shall endeavor to secure photographs of the houses from which to make cuts to illustrate the series of articles. No arbitrary limit will be set as to the length of the sketches but we would prefer that they should not exceed 800 words and would like to see them approach as near that as possible.

Midweek Midnight for Moring.

One night, nearly a month and two days ago, a young man, who had been a student at the Wyomouth High School, was killed by a train. The train was passing through the town of Weymouth, and the young man was standing on the tracks. The train was moving at a high rate of speed, and the young man was unable to get out of the way in time.

It was at last ascertained that the train had been stopped, and the young man was killed. The train was passing through the town of Weymouth, and the young man was standing on the tracks. The train was moving at a high rate of speed, and the young man was unable to get out of the way in time.

THANKSGIVING.

Religion, the old Thanksgiving Day! The Pilgrims' feast of 1620. When our Grandfather and great Grandfather came to this land and here.

Oh, the smiles on their level faces! And the clasp of each warm hand! With the look of gladness and joy.

Let us gather round the table, For a feast of thanksgiving. And feast with hearty thankfulness On our old-fashioned fare.

Look! candlesticks of silver, From father's hand to son. And silver plates and cups, And silver spoons and forks.

And silver spoons for silver, From father's hand to son. And silver plates and cups, And silver spoons and forks.

JOSHUA BATES OF WYOMOUTH.

Founder of the Boston Public Library, Honored Merchant, Public Benefactor, Christian Patriot.

The following biography was written by the Rev. O. H. Russell, late pastor of the United Church of Weymouth, and was read at a recent meeting of the Weymouth Historical Society.

It is a wonder that at his death the Rev. O. H. Russell, late pastor of the United Church of Weymouth, and was read at a recent meeting of the Weymouth Historical Society.

Joshua Bates all through his long, useful and honorable career has been a true representative of American mercantile character, and an exponent of the ethical influences of American training and institutions.

I want to emphasize just here what seems one secret of Mr. Bates' success as a business man. There is a whole volume of suggestions to young men in the account that Mr. Bates gives of himself as a young man—his eagerness and determination to get on, and to read good solid books that would give him a wide and intelligent outlook on the lines of his business. He continually insisted on good solid reading for young people. He says in a letter written to himself the young men if left to themselves waste their time in railroad literature, chiefly novels, to be had at every station. These publications are doing us much harm, and if we are not careful, the rising generation will grow up without a single positive advantage.

And yet another secret was his thoroughness and integrity of business methods. There is entirely too much of that hereafter that a business man must be scrupulous in order to succeed. It is a business man's duty to be honest. His honesty is the best policy, even if there is no higher motive.

Every advantage in business came through his integrity and his honesty. He carried with him a large and honorable reputation, and he carried with him a large and honorable reputation, and he carried with him a large and honorable reputation.

With these qualifications, Mr. Bates, in the second place, was a public benefactor. Those who knew him best tell of his many and generous private benefactions to the poor, old, and infirm, and to the needy. Most of these good deeds came from his heart, and he was not at all conscious of them.

There was another way in which he was also in a sense a public benefactor. He was a man of great energy and initiative. He was a man of great energy and initiative. He was a man of great energy and initiative.

He was a man of great energy and initiative. He was a man of great energy and initiative. He was a man of great energy and initiative. He was a man of great energy and initiative.

Birthday Anniversary.

A large number of the South Weymouth friends of Mrs. J. F. L. Whitman of Weymouth, Mass., celebrated the twenty-fourth anniversary of her birth, at her residence last week Wednesday. The following original poem, written by Mrs. E. H. Bates, was read at the celebration.

Dear Cousin, I have had, if I rightly remember, some time ago, the fifteen of November. You have been born on this day. I lift up my hands in public thanksgiving to God for his manifold mercies, new every morning and fresh every evening.

In accordance with this honored and revered custom, I hereby, with the advice and consent of the Council, appoint Thursday, Nov. 24, next, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise.

Let the people of the Commonwealth on that day, forgetting all differences in the recognition of their common fatherhood, in mutual charity and love, and in such ways as their consciences most approve, unite in grateful public homage to God; let them ever remember as they gather at their altars and their firesides on this joyful day that "every good gift and every perfect favor cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness neither shadow of turning."

Given at the council chamber in Boston this 24th day of October, A. D. 1893, and of the Independence of the United States the 118th.

By his Excellency the Governor, WILLIAM E. RUSSELL.

God save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Governor Russell's Proclamation.

By his Excellency WILLIAM E. RUSSELL, GOVERNOR.

A PROCLAMATION FOR A DAY OF PUBLIC THANKSGIVING.

The summer ended, the harvest gathered, the season returns for when for generations our Christian community has been accustomed to call on God for his manifold mercies, new every morning and fresh every evening.

In accordance with this honored and revered custom, I hereby, with the advice and consent of the Council, appoint Thursday, Nov. 24, next, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise.

Let the people of the Commonwealth on that day, forgetting all differences in the recognition of their common fatherhood, in mutual charity and love, and in such ways as their consciences most approve, unite in grateful public homage to God; let them ever remember as they gather at their altars and their firesides on this joyful day that "every good gift and every perfect favor cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness neither shadow of turning."

FOR INVENTIONS

PROTECTED BY THE

PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the Government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY has retained counsel expert in patent practice, and is therefore prepared to Obtain Patents, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are not necessary unless the invention is of a complicated nature. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
